2. Perusal of FIR indicates that there are matrimonial disputes between the informant and her husband since 2009 to 2013. Both of them had instituted different litigations against each other. Before lodging the FIR, the complainant had initiated complaint under Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005. Learned advocate for applicant submitted that both the parties have filed purshis and said proceedings were withdrawn. Pursuant to that the FIR was registered. Notice u/s 41(1) of Cr.P.C was issued to applicant. On perusal of the order passed by Sessions Court, it is apparent that primary objection of the prosecution was that the applicant had not attended the police station though notice was issued to them under Section 41(1) of Cr.P.C. The learned Sessions Judge has observed that the say filed by the prosecution states that the applicant had not replied to the notice nor co-operated with investigation.

3. Learned APP submitted that in spite of notice being issued to them the applicants had not approached the investigating officer and had not co-operated with investigation.

4. The advocate for applicant had submitted that the FIR has been registered at D.N.Nagar Police Station and applicant nos.1 to 3 are residents of Dhule and applicant no.4 is resident of Pune. Therefore, they could not respond to the notice issued by police and, therefore, there was difficulty in attending the police when notice was issued. It is submitted that the applicants would co-operate with investigation.

5. The dispute is arising out of matrimonial differences. The application was rejected by Sessions Court on the ground of non attendance to police station. Husband of complainant was arrested. Custody of applicants is not required.

6. Hence, I pass following order :

ORDER

(i) In the event of arrest of applicants in connection with CR No.212 of 2018 registered with D.N.Nagar Police Station, Mumbai, the applicants be released on bail on furnishing PR bond in the sum of Rs.15,000/- with one or more sureties in the like amount;

(ii) The applicants shall attend the investigating officer of D.N.Nagar Police Station on 6th October 2018 and 7th October 2018 between 10 am and 12 noon;

(iii) The applicants thereafter shall attend the investigating officer of D.N.Nagar Police Station as and when called till filing of charge sheet.
